Retired Fellows are established and respected members of the profession who were nominated and elected by the existing Fellowship body and are now retired.

As a retired Fellow you are part of a very special inclusive and growing network with the opportunity to participate in a range of programmes and prestigious IIC events and Congresses all over the world. We will help you stay up to date with the latest news, research and projects internationally, providing access to seed funding to support your ideas through the Opportunities Fund grant programme.

To ensure membership is affordable for all you can find details here of our discounts by world region and for those who already belong to a national body for conservators. These will be applied at check out.

"The more I learned about IIC, its networks and how membership develops skills and knowledge within conservation, the more I realized this truly was an exceptional community of cultural heritage professionals."
