

News in Conservation, December 2011

This issue is packed full of news from the world, together with interesting features contributed by our generous community.

Author: IIC

Year of publication: 2011

Volume: 27

Publisher: News in Conservation, International Institute for Conservation of Historic and Artistic Works,

Place published: London

Abstract: This issue is packed full of news from the world, together with interesting features contributed by our generous community. Antonina Pirrotta from Italy will introduce us to the use of advanced monitoring technologies employed by her team for the preservation of an ancient statue of the Virgin Mary. We will also learn about the Romiri Project, a multidisciplinary workshop that took place on the island of Zakynthos (Greece) in early Autumn. The notice for the IIC Annual General Meeting with the profile of the candidates standing for election is also included, together with an outline of the public talk that will follow the meeting.

Download PDF

Browse all Issues